MATHS

Activity- Place Value caterpillar

About this activity- In this activity students have made a caterpillar with the help of given information.

The Place Value Caterpillar is a visual representation where each segment of the caterpillar represents a place value position (ones, tens, hundreds, etc.). Each segment contains a digit, and when the segments are combined, they create a multi-digit number. The caterpillar helps students see how the value of each digit Activity – My number Monster.

About the activity- In this activity the participants arrange the Number Monsters in the correct order to form the chosen multi-digit number. This visually demonstrates the concept of place value. They should position the monsters according to their assigned place value.

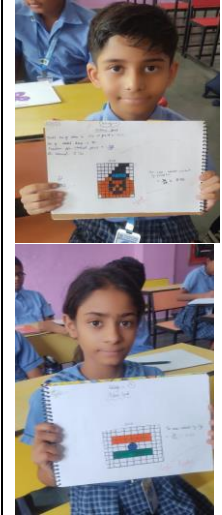

Activity - Find decimals using 10x10 grid sheet

About the activity- In this activity students will take a grid sheet of 10 by 10. They need to create and colour one image using square boxes. (Like minecraft images) students can record the number of squares for each color, and calculate the fraction, decimal, and/or percentage for each color. There is one version that only includes fractions and decimals, and one version that also includes a percent
